Visit
Holiday house
Trnac

Welcome!

"Trnac"¹ Holiday house is an oasis of peace and greenery spread throughout a big estate located on the hill at the entrance to Pristava, tame valley with county road connecting Tuhelj with Zelenjak, Klanjec and Kumrovec winding through it.

Visit this corner of the Croatian Zagorje and decide why it is called a "Fairytale on the palm of your hand": enjoy the somehow sleeping beauty of Zagorje hills, whose colors reflect the change of seasons so vividly.

Experience the rich flavors and aromas of fresh picked fruit sprouted on heavy clay.

Go to a nearby vineyard and share hard working vintner's joy of enjoying genuine wine. Do it on foot or on a bike – one of the bike trails will take you to the Tuhelj spa!

Take a short trip into the past – visit some of the nearby monuments of rich cultural and historical heritage of Krapina-Zagorje County, try some of the local Zagorje "jestvina"² and see how fairytale – fits on the tip of your palm!

ACTIVITIES

Excursion route Tuhelj – Klanjec – Zelenjak – Kumrovec – Zagorska sela – Miljana – Veliki Tabor – Tuhelj (app. 44 km)

Underneath Cesargrad forest, in the hollow between her picturesque hills lays Tuhelj, the center of the homonymous municipality named after the old Slavic word "tuhl" which means hollow, humid place, which explains local dialect word "tuhtina."

Klanjec is a picturesque town located at the saddle ridge of 511 m high Cesargrad hill separating Sutla and Krapina River watershed. History of Klanjec was marked by numerous great names of Croatian heritage, such as Antun Mihanović, author of the Croatian anthem, famous sculptor Antun Augustinčić and a painter Oton Iveković are.

Zelenjak is a protected landscape surrounded by wooded slopes of the Sutla River canyon in which, along the road connecting Klanjec with Kumrovec, stands a monument to the Croatian anthem.

In the open-air ethnographic museum Staro selo (old village) in Kumrovec there are fortyish over one hundred years old well-preserved and restored farmhouses and outbuildings. The birthplace of Josip Broz Tito is transformed into museum, too.

In a joint Croatian-Slovenian tourist zone created along the Sutla River in the northwest of Krapina – Zagorje County lays the village of Zagorska sela.

On your way to Desinić you'll reach Miljana, the Rattkay family baroque castle, one of the most picturesque in the Croatian Zagorje.

On a hill near Desinić there is the fort called Veliki Tabor, one of the best preserved medieval and renaissance fortified towns on Croatian mainland. The fort has been recently restored and a new multimedia exhibition is opened in it.

Horseback riding, horse-drawn carriage rides

There is a big variety of activities nearby farms have to offer to horse lovers, whether it comes to riding on the polygon, field riding, or horse-drawn carriage rides through gentle Zagorje landscapes.

Cycling

Thirtyish kilometers long cycling route connects two sources of health – Tuhelj and Tuheljske Spa with Krapinske spa.

Numerous roadside crucifixes, churches, chapels, noble houses and old castles fit harmoniously into the picturesque landscape full of meadows, fields and vineyards intersected by local roads.

Tour A (ca 11 km):

Tuhelj – Prosenik – Lenišće – Dugnjevce – Pristava – Tuhelj

Tour B (ca 24 km):

Tuhelj – Tuheljske Toplice – Krapinske Toplice – Mala Erpenja – Trsteno – Tuhelj

Hiking

Cesargrad is a medieval fortress built mid 14th century on the steepest part of Cesargrad forest above the Sutla valley and today's Klanjec.

According to tradition, Cesargrad was built by Templars. 1573 Cesargrad got destroyed in the Peasants' Revolt, when it was robbed and set on fire.

At a height of 460 m, located just 5 minutes walk from the ruins of Cesargrad, there is mountain house "Cesargrad."
